CAMP TUTTLE'S MENTAL HEALTH ADVOCATE POSITION

Camp Tuttle is currently seeking qualified individuals to apply for our Mental Health Advocacy Program. The individual should be interested in working outdoors with youth ages 7-18 and young adults ages 18-25. This position requires some background and experience as a student or worker in the field of mental health or adjacent fields (e.g. social work, education, recreation leadership, etc).

Candidates should be willing and ready to help collaborate, plan, and design a program that offers counselors and campers workshops, activities, and discussion opportunities surrounding positive mental health practices like emotional regulation, healthy boundaries, coping skills, self care promotion, etc. A commitment to the summer schedule (below) is required. Room and board are provided during the camp sessions. Summer salary is dependent on experience, and will start at $22/hour.

Seldom have I felt the combination of intention, love, passion, care, and joy that is engendered by and in this community.
