“Death may end life, BUT not necessarily a relationship.”
Please join us for a two-day training for anyone working with

GRIEF, LOSS, END OF LIFE CARE & ISSUES OF TRAUMA

January 28th & 29th, 2016
9:00 AM - 4:30 PM

Okazaki Community Meeting Room (155)
The University of Utah College of Social Work
395 South 1500 East, Salt Lake City

Dr. Robert A. Neimeyer will focus on assessing client needs when struggling with complicated, prolonged grief symptomatology. Learn how to foster a safe relational container for a healing “re-telling” of the loss experience. Expand your toolbox by using metaphor, body work, and a variety of narrative procedures to make sense of loss and one’s response to it. Consider grieving as a process of reconstructing rather than relinquishing our bonds with those who died and the circumstances that can interfere with this natural process.

Dr. Neimeyer, PhD, is a professor in the Department of Psychology at the University of Memphis, where he also maintains an active clinical practice. He has published 30 books, including Techniques of Grief Therapy: Creative Practices for Counseling the Bereaved and Grief and the Expressive Arts: Practices for Creating Meaning (both with Routledge), and serves as editor of the journal Death Studies.

Cost: $225
Contact: Diana Andrus, 801-581-8127, diana.andrus@socwk.utah.edu

Approved for 12 NASW-endorsed CEUs

This training is multi-disciplinary and relevant to human service professionals working in the areas of hospice, nursing, palliative care, grief and loss counseling, clinical practice, education, etc.