

COLLEGE OF SOCIAL WORK | THE UNIVERSITY OF UTAH

Voices of Diversity

Anti-Discrimination Response Training

Anti-Discrimination Response Training (ART) uses a witness-centered approach to prejudice reduction and anti-discrimination education and an experiential learning format in a group context.

Irene Ota, University of Utah College of Social Work instructor and diversity coordinator, has offered to lead a group through this outstanding training.

Friday, August 4, 6:00 pm – 9:00 pm &
Saturday, August 5, 9:00 am – 12:00 pm
(two-part training, snacks provided)

– OR –

Saturday, August 12, 9:00 am – 4:00 pm
(one-day training, snacks and lunch provided)

pick one →

***

Register for this free training

email Irene Ota (irene.ota@socwk.utah.edu) by July 22

← email to register

***

Okazaki Community Meeting Room (155-A)

University of Utah College of Social Work
395 South 1500 East, Salt Lake City

← train here

ART, developed by Dr. Ishu Ishiyama of the University of British Columbia, is based on Dr. Ishiyama's active witnessing model. It incorporates social learning theory, social skills training, socio-cultural competency expansion models, group-based experiential learning models, and moral development theory.